EDINGLASSIE SCHOOL DISTRICT
NO 1973

January 3rd 1921
To the ratepayers of Edinglassie School District NO. 1973.

In another part of this issue will be found the notice of the annual meeting of the ratepayers. Now is the time to get out and say what you have to say in regard to the management of your school. It is an all too common occurrence in this district for ratepayers to stay at home on this (to the school district) most important day. For the past six years or more it has been the custom to find a this meeting only the acting trustees the secretary and perhaps two other ratepayers and as one part of the business of this meeting is to elect a trustee therefore one or other of the (extras) is elected whether he wants the job or not which all too often not the case. The meeting is over and all seems well for another year, but not so. We often find that "those who stay at home seemingly disinterested" get busy right away to find all kinds of faults with the new board, and such pieces of conversation as, "What did they put him on the board for? what does a bachelor know about running a school?" and so on. Mr. Ratepayer, stop right there and ask yourself one question, "Who are they," and you will at once find that you are one of the "they" fraternity. This meeting is especially called for your benefit, to get out and say what you have to say for the good of your school or who shall run it and what improvements you think could be made and anything and everything for the benefit of your children if you have any or for the benefit of those who have. There is a right time and right place for every thing and this is the time to do your bit for the benefit of your school. If the present board suits you say so. If they don't put them out and elect those whom you think will. The school is one of the most important institutions in your district in fact the most important. Therefore it's up to you to see that it is run to the best advantage that will procure for your children the best possible means of education. Therefore on the seventh day of January 1921, be there to give your opinion. Don't stay at home and tell yourself that you are no good for a trustee or that you don't care who runs the school, and then when the board commence their duties, begin right away to find fault with their administration; if you have nothing to say on that day then keep still for the rest of the year. Wake up, take an interest in your school, and say what you have to say at the right time. Elect men or women that you think will do all they can to make the school what it should be; a place where children are 'educated,' in every sense of the word. It is a duty not an obligation on your part; don't leave it to one or two to be there and then criticize their word, when you see the report of the meeting or hear it from someone else; be there to take a hand, help your school along. There will be some very important business brought up at this meeting so make up your mind to be there and help it along.

A. PETRIE,
Chairman of present board.

Hockey Notes

The local puck-chasers journeyed to Unity on New Year's day and clashed with the fastest traveling sextette outside the Big Four and although they finished on the short end of a 4-7 score, they performed in great style especially in the first period when by real stanley cup style combination in which Stewart, Rodden and Art Pierce, worked to perfection and ended 4-3 in favor of Chauvin.

The Balloon went up in the last stanza, owing to ragged play and no combination of which the Unity boys were quick to take advantage of all the breaks passed Knott for four counters and won the game 7--4

Knott, Chauvin's new goal fender, is a dandy, and picks them off from all comers.

A concert and dance will be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Friday January, 7th. A progra of songs, Dances Comic Opera, Musical and Vocal Melodrama, and elocution

The proceeds are for Hockey Club.

Many a match has been witnessed in the above mentioned competition, and from the results of the games it is evident that the rinks rink having to travel all the way to come out on top. "Ask Mayor Parcels."

A new schedule is being prepared for the next competition, which is to take the form of a play all, an entry fee of $2 per rink is to be charged and four prizes bought with the proceeds, which will go to the rink winning the most games, it is expected that the schedule will be drawn up in time to permit the competition to commence on the 5th of January.

The folowing rinks are taking in the spell at Wainwright which commences on the 18th, when we hope they will cover themselves with glory and put the town of Chauvin on the curling map.

We are pleased to note that several of the ladies have commenced curling and from the form shown, the men are beginning to be a little afraid that they will have to take second place, when it comes to drawing a rock to the button, nevertheless they are pleased that the ladies are taking an interest in the popular winter game.

Just a reminder that there ore still a few who have not payed their subscriptions, and we require a little money to carry on.

Wedding Bells

MARLATT-NICOL

A very pretty wedding took place in Wells school, on Wednesday, December 29th, at 4.30 p.m. when Miss Eileen Marguerite Nicol of Wycollar, Sask. became the bride of Mr. William Clifford Marlatt of Lashburn, Sask.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. W. A. Osborne of Lashburn Presbyterian church in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Leono Nicol and Miss Mary Cayford. Mr. Wilfred Marlatt and Mr. Clifford Nicol supported the groom.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her brother to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March which was beautifully rendered by Miss Gertrude Reid of Vancouver, B.C.

The bride, carrying a sheaf of white carnations and hyacinths, looked sweet in a gown of ivory satin with tunic and sleeves of lace. The dainty veil caught with a string of pearls enhanced the bride's costume. The bridesmaids looked charming in gowns of shell pink and rose satin.

After the ceremony, and the hearty congratulations of all, the one hundred guests sat down at the tastefully arranged luncheon tables.

Chauvin, Alberta, January 3rd 1920
Regular meeting of the Chauvin Schol Board held at the school house at 8 o'clock p.m.

Present: Dr. H. J. Folkins (Chairman,) Mr. E. Foxwell and Mrs. Saul. Minutes of last preceding meeting were read, and Mrs. Saul moved, Mr. Foxwell seconded that same be adopted as read.

Accounts:—The following accounts were presented, Chauvin Chronicle, $5.60; Western Lumber Co. $147.55; G.T.P. Development Co. $50.50; Mr. Foxwell moved Mrs. Saul seconded that same be paid, the Western Lumber Co. account to be first checked by Mr. Goede. Carried.

Mr. Foxwell reported that he had ben unable to obtain any bracket lamps in town; but had procured an ordinary stand lamp, and coal oil can.

Annual Meeting: Dr. Folkins expressed satisfaction with the progress made by the Board during the year just closed, and also with the good work being accomplished in the schools. The report of the Principal showed a total of 79 on the rolls. There were no complaints so far as the Board was aware. The school buildings had been properly overhauled and renovated; one room had been placed on a good concrete foundation; a good shed had been built for wood and coal; and the grounds had been enclosed and added to. At the same time, much valuable equipment had been provided to form a nucleus for the better training of the more advanced school of 1921 and the last of the debentures paid off. With such a school in our midst and in a very favorable financial standing, the Chairman felt sure that a greater interest was being and would be created in matters educational in this school district, Owing to the amendments to the School Ordinance, annual meetings could be held in the evenings, and he thought it would be well to adopt the plan, and hold the next annual meeting in the evening.

After some discussion, Mr. Foxwell moved, Mrs. Saul seconded that the Annual Meeting of the ratepayers be held at the School House on Friday the 14th instant, at 7 o'clock in the evening; and that the Secretary have the regular notices printed and posted, and arrange for same being published in the Chauvin Chronicle. Carried.

Auditor: Mrs. Saul moved, Mr. Foxwell seconded that Mr. Nachtergaele be appointed auditor to audit the 1920 accounts, at the fee provided for in the School Ordinance, and that the work be completed in time for the annual meeting. Carried.

Mr. Foxwell was appointed to act as a committee to procure a padlock and key for the big school gate, and ascertain if the fence was down in any place.

Mr. Foxwell moved that the extra school site, west of the Mill, be advertised for sale for one month. Mrs. Saul seconded. Carried.

Dr. Folkins then declared the meeting adjourned.

Red Bobs Wheat Gives Good Results

Nick Taitinger, the well-known seed grower of Claresholm, Alta., has had good success with Red Bobs. In conversation with a Guide representative in Calgary some time ago he gave some of his experience with it, and was requested to send a contribution embodying those experiences to The Guide for publication. Mr.

Taitinger is a careful observer and student of seed-growing, as his letter shows. He says:

I may say that I have grown Red Bobs for several years, and it has given me good results.

It is very difficult to defend the merits of Red Bobs against the odds of the experiments in Manitoba. It seems that Red Bobs has not done well from the start in Manitoba. It may also be possible that it was put on the market a few years too soon, that is before its type was fixed. The irregularity in the length of straw may be against it as a type, but its yield and quality of grain makes it superior to many types.

When it comes to choosing a type of wheat most adapted as a whole for the three western prairie provinces one will not make a mistake by using Marquis. Nevertheless Red Bobs and Kitchener have their merits, and if grown where they belong will produce great yields; I may say out-yield Marquis wheat.

But you know that with Marquis as well as with other varieties of grain, you must employ hand selection, head-row selection, and other best-known methods to keep it true to its characteristics as to yield, maturity, size of head, etc., and to keep its efficiency at top notch. Otherwise in a few years you will have a very poor sample as to type.

Furthermore, it is a well-known fact that any plant should, or rather must be grown where the soil and climatic conditions are best adapted in order to produce the best results. I am sorry to say that it is not done very often, except by accident. Whenever a new type comes on the market well advertised it is bought at a fancy price and planted anywhere through the Dominion of Canada regardless of the adaptability to any locality. If it happens to be the right place it is a success, but if otherwise it is a failure.

For illustration, say one planted Ruby, which is certainly a good wheat in the dry area of the south or south-western prairie provinces or Red Fife or Kitchener in the far north no sound-minded man would expect that either one of these good types would make anything but complete failure. Even in the same locality each variety should be planted in the most adapted soil. You cannot grow pineapples or oranges in Canada, but they are grown elsewhere.

No early variety should be planted in a dry district or on light soil. Kitchener or Red Fife should be used. As it takes those types longer and moisture at any time to form and moisture at any time to form the seed. And then when it comes to a point where moisture is lacking the plant will rush the period of producing kernels. That is why Marquis, Red Bobs and Ruby, planted in a light or dry soil or in a dry year will not yield as much as Kitchener or Red Fife on the same soil.

Will Sow 300 Acres To Red Bobs
I have been growing Red Bobs for several years, and it has given splendid results, so much so that next spring I will sow 300 acres of it and 300 acres to Kitchener on lighter soil. may be attributed to having fairly heavy soil, and growing it on well-has out-yielded Marquis on my farm, also in my neighbourhood, on similar soil and cultivation.

Here are the comparative yields on my farm in 1920 on good summer-fallow:

Variety	per acre	Days maturing
Ruby	37 bushels	86
Red Bobs	44½ "	97
Kitchener	39 "	108
Marquis	33 "	104

The outstanding yields for any variety should be taken for a period of five years, as any one year may be very favorable to any one of those varieties and detrimental to others

Each of these varieties have their merits, and produce good yields of grown in localities where soil and climatic conditions are well adapted to them. Either one will be a failure if grown differently.

It must be left to the wheat grower to decide which variety is most suited to his own locality. Any one may be superior in yield to the others, according to its adaptability to that very location.

Alberta's 1920 Crop

Whatever the cause of the depression which has hit the agricultural industry of the province, and of the continent for the matter of that, it is not the fault of nature in Alberta during the year of ups and downs just terminated.

While men made conditions and men themselves have been undergoing upheavals and turmoil as a result of war and readjustment friend nature started out last summer to make amends for previous misdeeds and so far as Alberta is concerned came down the course in a blaze of glory at harvest time. Had prices held at anything like the level of the past few years the province would have produced more wealth from the fields during 1920 than in any season in the history of Alberta.

Official returns for the crop year are not yet available from the provincial department of agriculture since threshing reports cannot be finally assembled until late in January but the estimate of the crop statistician is accurate enough to give a fair idea of what the province actually produced in the year now closing.

This estimate from the provincial department of agriculture places the total value of farm products at $191,920,297.10 for 1920. Of the total the wheat crop of 87,601,385 bushels at a base of $1.34 a bushel reaches $116,074,483 acres of an average yield of 21.50 bushels per acre. The 38,000 acres of winter wheat averaged 24 bushels per acre for the province.

The acreage in oats for the season reached 3,089,700 and from these acres was harvested approximately 113,953,450 bushels which means a return of $38,065,104.00 at an average price of 32 cents a bushel. Barley is estimated at 13,459,572 bushels from 430,000 acres, which at 60 cents a bushel means a revenue of $8,075,743.20. The average yield of oats is given as 38.50 and barley 28 bushels per acre.

Flax was sown on 103,700 acres with an estimated yield of 855,526 bushels and an approximate valuation of $1,283,287.50. Rye was a better crop with 160,960 acres planted and an estimated return of 3,822,800 bushels, which at $1.25 per bushel would produce $4,778,500.00. Mixed grains on 8,398 acres are given as producing 258,238 bushels, or a return of $139,119.00.

Alberta made a splendid record with potato production last season with 43,000 acres planted and an average estimated yield of 178 bushels per acre, a total of 7,525,000 bushels for the province. Valued at $1 per bushel the crop has helped materially in "carrying on" in agricultural circles and likewise in general finances of the province.

Other root crops also came through the season with vigor producing approximately 3,075,000 bushels from 12,300 acres and giving an estimated revenue of $3690,000..

The grand total of acres in grain and field crops in the province for the year was 16,381,877 acres.

Supplementing the field returns for the year are the incomes from other sources on the farm and the forest. Animals slaughtered and sold are given as $38,000,000.00; dairy products as $34,000,000.00; the wool clip (1,740,235 lbs) as $730,899.98.. proceeds from game and furs as $2,250,000.00; poultry and products as $5,000,000.00; and the returns from horticulture as $2,285,000.00; making a grand total valuation for all farm products of $274,186,197.08 for the year.

In addition to the revenue from the fields and kindred production there are approximately 741,851 horses in the province with a valuation of $66,766,590.00 over 305,607 milk cows valued at $24,448,500.00; other cattle valued at $52,516,700.00 to the number of 1,050,334; sheep and lambs numbering 383,424 with a valuation of $3,824,240.00; swine with a valuation of $5,731,120.00 for approximately 286,556 head and no less than 2,399,855 poultry with a valuation of $2,879,826.00. The total valuation of the live stock on the farms of Alberta is therefore about $156,177,036.00 at the present value.

Therefore an admittedly conservative estimate of the value of the farm production and of live stock on the farms reaches the magnificent grand total of $430,363,233.08 for the year now slipping into the past.

Bright Prospects Ahead

If ever there was a period in the history of Canada when sane thinking and common sense were needed it is now. This is no time to forsake the beaten paths of experience and sound principles for the will o' the wisp of speculation and ill-considered theoretical experiments.

Neither is it time to lose our nerve and become panic-stricken. Canadians are not bred that way and whatever the future has in store we are ready to face calmly, with an unbounded faith in the future of our country.

During the past year we have heard a great deal about the aftermath of the war. We are now experiencing and beginning to realize what it means. We are going through the throes and birth-pains of the adjustment period with its falling markets, unemployment and world-wide unsettled conditions.

For five years the doctrine of the simple life, "hard work and thrift," "produce and save," has been preached in this country, and to a far-reaching extent it has been lived up. Our people have been producing to their utmost capacity all through the years of the war and since. They have also been carefully and methodically putting by their earnings, and the per capita savings of Alberta is greater today than ever before. The large amount of Victory Bonds held, Government Savings Certificates, and increased savings bank deposits will prove this. The people during the past five years have not been indolent nor extravagant, and they have made the most of their opportunities.

It is rather unfortunate that the falling prices caught us with our season's products, to a large extent, unmarketed, but in the general world wide depression we could not expect to escape unscathed, and while, at the present time, our markets are somewhat demoralized and the hope of improvement in the immediate future is not bright, we can depend upon the assurance that the world needs our grain and livestock, and our agricultural industry, when conducted along progressive and legitimate lines, will continue to prosper and expand.

For awhile there may be hard sledding ahead, and it behooves every man to conserve his strength, lighten his load and be prepared; but nevertheless there is nothing in the outlook to weaken our confidence in the great future of the Province of Alberta.

Wheat Via Panama

One of the movements in the grain trade that is at the present time creating very considerable attention is the first shipment of Canadian wheat that is being sent to the United Kingdom via Vancouver and the Panama Canal. There are many in the trade who predict that it will be the forerunner of a very considerable business in the future, and energetic steps are being taken by Vancouver people in that direction. One of the principal matters in that connection is the establishment of a Grain Exchange at the coast city.

Alberta brokers, generally, are just now keeping an open mind as to how this route will work out as compared to the haulage to the coast of the west and shipment via an Atlantic port. Much will undoubtedly depend upon the canal dues, which might be so high as to militate against a large amount of traffic. In the present shipment that is going forward the rates are approximately the same as the overland and Atlantic haul. It is pointed out, however, that before next doubtfully be a very considerable readjustment made in ocean freights, and while that would of course apply to the Atlantic, it is argued that there rata as far as the Pacific was concerned owing to the longer ocean distance and the shorter land haul to the Pacific coast.

Alberta Social Service Wants It Bone Dry

With the date of the legislature now definitely fixed, the government's policy in connection with the liquor question is expected to come up for discussion and adoption almost at once. It is understood that the Moderation league is planning to present its side of the case to the government again, while the general views of the prohibition forces have already made known to Premier Stewart.

The question at issue is likely to be the interpretation that is to be put upon the results of the recent referendum that the vote was not sufficiently decisive to warrant the drastic action suggested in the premier's proposition of bone-dry legislation, and on the other side of the argument the position is taken that the people expressed themselves at the polls as overwhelmingly in favor of absolute prohibition.

A statement given out by the Alberta Social Service league makes a comparison and analysis of the figure of the plebiscite last October. There were 62,772 votes on the dry side in 1920 as compared with 58,295 in 1915. The wet votes were 44,176 and 37,509 respectively. The fact that 4,447 more voters declared for prohibition this year than in the vote of five years ago with all the soldiers back, is interpreted as a decisive indication of the matter.

"To define this vote," says the Social Service statement. "It means that with an increased vote from stroyed eighteen cotton warehouses and other buildings, are thought to be the work of Sinn Fein incendiaries.

95,704 in 1915 to 108,178 in 1920, an increase of 12,474 voters, the dry majority for the whole province has decreased by only 2,190. If the provincial government felt in 1915 that it had made a mandate from the people, as it certainly did, surely in the face of the present majority and the statement made by Premier Stewart during the last session of the house, it has now a similar mandate.

Chauvin Agricultural Society Column Cost Of Production

An interesting bulletin has been issued by the Chauvin Agricultural Society, which contains much valuable information for the farmer. It shows the results of a co-operative experiment covering two groups of farms; one group of 113 farms and another group of 350. The object of the work was to obtain reasonably accurate information as to the cost of producing wheat and some conclusions were drawn, which, while not final, are most instructive. One item which seems to have been underestimated was the charge for the use of land. This was put at $3.10 per acre, disregarding entirely the loss of fertility resulting from production of the crop. Other items of cost considered were seed, man labor, horse labor, machinery, twine, fertilizer, crop insurance, threshing and management.

The record covers the year 1919, which it is conceded was an unfavorable year for crop production. The cost per bushel would therefore be high but the relative figures would be about average.

The first conclusion is that the yield per acre is the largest factor influencing the cost of production. On 113 farms from $1.85 to $6.82 per bushel, depending upon the yield per acre, which varied from 1 to 17.5 bushels per acre. Fifty per cent. of the wheat produced on this group of farms was raised on an average cost of $2.00 per bushel, while the other fifty per cent. cost over $3.00 per bushel.

Of the 350 farm group the average cost was $19.88 per acre and $2.75 $8.53 to $35.47 per acre, and from $1.21 to 14.38 per bushel. The average yield per acre was 7.2 bushels the range in yield was from one to 17.5 bushels per acre. The wide range in yield and cost points directly to the value of increasing average yield as a means of reducing the cost of production, and thus increasing the profits from wheat-growing.

Feed Grain To Stock

A very prominent western financial authority has been urging the prairie farmers to feed as much as possible of the raw grains during the winter and even to buy stock at present prices at which to feed it.

Fed is fairly plentiful this fall and the price of cattle is remarkably low. The gentleman in question is the manager of a great Canadian bank and prophesies that prices will go up very materially towards spring and that farmers stall feeding for the winter can hardly fail to make a good profit. Conditions would seem to justify this conclusion and western farmers can hardly do better than profit by this advice. Under normal conditions feeding for the spring wheat market should be a good side line for a farmer and is not practised as much as it should be. Anything which can be done to stimulate the live-stock industry is a good thing for the coun-authority in question is likely a well considered one and is well worthy of the farmers.

Retaliation

If the United States so far forgets itself as to place a tariff which will have the effect of an embargo upon grain and cattle who will be the most serious losers?

The Canadian farmer, without any doubt.

There is no question about that.

We should meet that, says the high tariff enthusiast, by placing a higher tariff on the goods which come from United States to Canada.

And who would be most greatly injured by a policy of that kind.

Why the Canadian farmer, of course. He would have to pay higher prices for his goods.

If the United States government should be so unwise as to adopt a fiscal policy which would injure the Canadian Farmer then according to the High Tariff reasoner, we should meet that policy by adopting a policy which should injure the Canadian farmer even more. That is the policy of retaliation.

It was Gladstone, was it not, who gave a good description of retaliation. The ordinary man meets a blow on the cheek, with a blow for the man who smote him. By Christian doctrine, the man who received a blow on the cheek, turns the other cheek to the assailant. But by the policy of retaliation, the man who is smitten on one cheek straightway smites himself on the other cheek.

The action of the government in cutting out the licenses of drug stores which have been violating the law, and turning their stores into saloons is the very best. It should have a salutary effect. This is one very effective way of bringing offenders to time.

Wheat Pool Will Mean A Revolution In The Grain Trade

If the proposed wheat pool is successfully organized it will mean a revolution in the grain trade in Canada, and some already in the trade are afraid of what the future might bring forth, as shown by the fact that certain grain interests have adopted the policy of the full page advertisements in the daily and weekly press, pointing out the benefits as they see them, of the present system of selling grain through the grain exchanges.

There are many difficulties yet to be overcome before the pool can be put into effect and the committee still busily engaged in attending to the matter, and for this reason it is not yet possible to gain any authoritative information as to the proposed pool.

Whether a proposal for co-operation can be said quite definitely that the farmers of Western Canada are determined that sooner or later the grain they grow will be handled on a straight co-operative basis, and will get the full returns from the products of their labor.

We hear a lot about the operations of the grain exchanges and the trading in options, but to a company legitimately in the business, the option market is a necessity, just as much as fire insurance is to a merchant. It is quite true that the marketing of grain through options has come in for considerable criticism in some dispute owing to gambling in futures, but it can be truthfully be said, so has horse racing, boxing and even baseball. The gambling element is very hard to overcome and a commodity such as grain readily lends itself to the manipulations of the gambler. There is no doubt that effect on the market, especially the operations of such places as the Winnipeg exchange, which is possibly an outstanding example of gambling carried to the extreme. It has been repeated on many occasions and never in paper wheat has been traded on the floor of that exchange than, and be grown in the Dominion in the next ninety years.

Chauvin, Alberta, December 30th 1920

Those people who are worrying about the exchange value of the dollar and the proposed embargo upon Canadian products have apparently not considered one way of stabilizing exchange and also bringing United States to its commercial senses. Why not take the Farmers' policy and simply shop off our tariff on goods coming from Britain? That would help to build up the British pound. It would be a very great influence upon the commercial policy of United States. That would be a form of retaliation which would not injure, but on the contrary would very greatly benefit Canada.

School Curriculum Will Be Revised

The preliminary work in connection with the revision of the public school curriculum in Alberta is now practically completed, and steps will be taken presently to arrange for the actual re-writing of the course of study in order to have them ready for the fall term of 1921.

Questionnaires sent out some months ago by the department of education to local school boards, teachers associations, Canadian Clubs, women's organizations, and boards of trade have in most cases been answered and the trustees' associations will deal with them at their approaching meetings. These questionnaires asked for an expression of opinion from the several sources indicated as to the present school curriculum, whether or not too heavily loaded, what should be taken from it or added to it, and in a general way how it might be improved and made more practical.

The mass of material secured in answer to the department's question will be examined shortly and for that purpose a general committee may be appointed with instructions to bring in a report to the minister. Some very good and pertinent suggestions have been received, it is stated by officials of the department, and when they have been tabulated and digested it is expected that a number of ways in which the curriculum can be improved will be ready for consideration by the government authorities. The educational experts admit that the study course in the public schools as at present being followed is in need of revision, and some beneficial results are looked for from the inquiries now being made. What is likely to happen, it is said, is that in several cases the work will be re-organized within the course itself, without necessarily eliminating any particular subjects of study, but in such a way as to emphasize the features of the greatest possible value.

After the public school curriculum has been thus revised it is possible that the high school courses will be similarly dealt with. The work is being taken up in Alberta independently, and the proposed changes will effect this province only.
